

HYBRID HEROES

DEAR PARENT/GUARDIAN,

At school, children have been learning about animal adaptations and human excellence with Guinness World Records. They have learnt how each animal is well adapted to survive in its environment. They have also studied examples of human excellence, such as Usain Bolt and Lhakpa Sherpa, and how the human body has developed over time to allow us to excel at certain activities.

Children have now been posed the question: What will happen when you combine a human's best features with an animal's amazing adaptation?

Children have been asked to create hybrid Hero – a new Guinness World Records record-breaking superhero that combines human excellence with amazing animal features.

THE COMPETITION DEADLINE IS 15TH NOVEMBER 2017.

THERE ARE SOME EXCITING PRIZES UP FOR GRABS FOR THE WINNING DESIGN:

TOP PRIZE:

- ▶ A GUINNESS WORLD RECORDS® hands-on workshop at the winning pupil's school, with the Editor-in-Chief, Craig Glenday! Children will participate in an interactive quiz with Craig, learn how records are set and adjudicated, and get the opportunity to practise some record-breaking challenges of their own!
- ▶ A GUINNESS WORLD RECORDS® goody bag including the Guinness World Records Collection, a stationery set, notebook, headphones and hoodie all contained in a funky duffle bag.
- ▶ A copy of the Guinness World Records 2018 book for each member of the winning pupil's class.
